Dear Relative:

The most interesting items grow from a desire to preserve our heritage and background for future generations. This Thiessen family register comes from such a desire - a desire that generations yet to come may appreciate the rich background that is theirs. Much time and effort has gone into the preparation of this book. Many thanks go to all who have answered questionnaires and special requests and to all who cooperated by giving data for their families.

A family record is never complete, but only a beginning. This beginning, hopefully will give each family the opportunity - yes, the responsibility to try to keep the record up to date as the family increases with the years. Extra space has intentionally been left for this purpose.

In the book; the number on the left is the generation number of that person: The children of Jacob Thiessen are generation number 2, the grandchildren of Jacob Thiessen are generation 3, etc. This is followed by the name, the date of birth, marriage date, and on the extreme right, the death date. The direct descendant is listed first; the in-law is listed directly below the direct descendant - then the children of that couple. The complete alphabetical index of names is at the end of the book.

With so many names and dates, and so much transcribing and compiling, errors are inevitable. I beg your pardon and can assure you that the errors are definitely not intentional.

It is hoped that you will receive as much enjoyment from the record, as those who have worked to bring it to completion.

Sincerely,

Katie Regehr Buller

Our grandparents, the Jacob Thiessens, were born in Lichtfelde, South Russia. They were married in 1865 and lived in Rudnerweide, South Russia, where they attended the Rudnerweide Church.

They immigrated to the United States with their six children, all daughters, ranging in age from eleven years to twenty-one months. They arrived in America on the ship named "Waterland." They came to Newton, Kansas on July 4, 1877 and for three weeks, they lived with Mrs. Abraham Regier. They bought eighty acres of land in Harvey County, five miles west and two and one-half miles south of Moundridge, Kansas. Later, at different times, they purchased two more eighties and a quarter section adjoining the original eighty. Almost 100 years later, there are producing oil wells on this land today.

There was much work to do on the farm and the girls had to work very hard. The sod had to be broken, the house and other buildings erected, trees planted and the fences built. There was no time for the family to be idle. Grandfather was a hard worker. Everything he did was done neatly and accurately. Among other abilities, he was a skilled carpenter which he used to good advantage.

The Thiessen family traveled twelve miles with horses and wagon to attend the Bethel Mennonite Church, south of Inman, Kansas. During the busy farming season, the horses had to rest on Sunday so the girls walked four miles to the old Eden Church and then walked home again after the church services. All of the ten children who reached maturity were baptized by Elder Toews and became members of Bethel Church.

Grandmother was a kind and loving mother and grandmother, always seeking the welfare of her children and grandchildren. Her great desire was that one of her family might become a missionary and her prayers were answered shortly before she passed away when her youngest child, John, made his decision to serve the Lord in the mission field.

On July 12, 1902, Grandfather Jacob Thiessen passed away and was buried in the pasture on his farm. Later his body was transferred to the South Inman Cemetery. He had reached the age of fifty-nine years, nine months and twenty-eight days.

Several years later, Grandmother moved to Inman and lived in a little house next to her daughter, Justina, Mrs. H. E. Toews. She passed away in her own home on December 31, 1914 and was buried in the South Inman Cemetery.

OBITUARY - MRS. JACOB THIESSEN, OUR GRANDMOTHER

Our dear mother, Sara Thiessen nee Janzen was born on December 28, 1845 in the village of Lichtfelde in South Russia. In the year of 1863 she was baptized by the Elder Johan Harder in the church at Orloff.

She was married to our father Jacob Thiessen on August 29, 1863. This union lasted for thirty-six years, ten months and three days. Twelve children were born to them and there were sixty-three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by two daughters and sixteen grandchildren.

Eight daughters, two sons and one brother are here at the casket mourning her death but not as those that have no hope. She loved her Redeemer and her wish was to go to Him. She suffered much in the last hours, and though it hurt to see her depart, yet we were thankful that the Lord took her home.

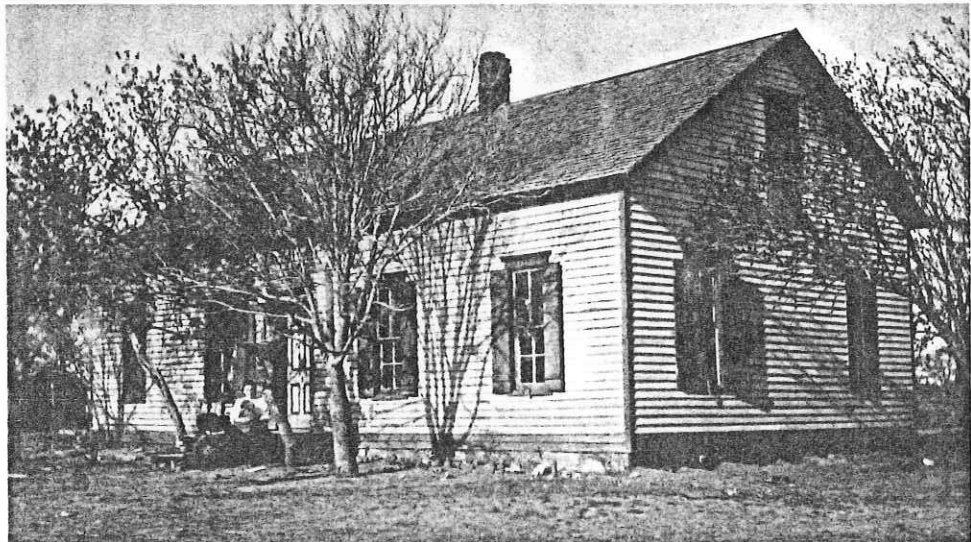

In 1877 the parents came to America from Rudnerweide, South Russia and settled in Harvey County, southwest of Moundridge. They lived there until after the death of our father. In the year of 1909 she moved to Inman, Kansas where she lived in quietness and peace among her children and grandchildren for a period of five years and nine months.

Last Thursday, December 31, 1914 at 3:15 A.M., came the hour of her departure. She had been sick for three days with pneumonia. She had reached the age of sixty-nine years, and two days and had lived in widowhood for twelve years, five months and nineteen days.

CHAPTER XXI

MRS. JACOB THIESSEN: MY GRANDMOTHER

As far back as I can remember, there has always been a large picture of my father's mother in our home. Underneath the picture is written in flowers, "Mother." Many times I have stopped a few seconds to look into her sincere face. It was filled with love, and I could never help but admire this woman. I have never known her, for she died many years before I was born, but there seems to be something about her that lives on in the lives of those who came in contact with her. My father often mentioned the fact that he could never be thankful enough for such a kind mother. So, in this biography, I have tried to bring out my grandmother's character as shown in the incidents that people have related to me.

It was the fourth of July, 1877, when the ship, Vaterland, landed on American shores. Among the many passengers that had left South Russia were my grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Thiessen. With their six daughters, they finally came to Newton, Kansas, where they stayed three weeks with a friend, Mrs. Abraham Regehr.<sup>1</sup>

But my grandfather was a farmer at heart, and at the end of the three weeks had bought a good piece of land southwest of Moundridge. The country was covered with tall grass, sometimes five feet tall. At this time my grandmother had granulated eyelids, and so was unable to see for a long time. One summer evening she lifted up her eyelids and saw the sky filled with lightening bugs. She was exceedingly afraid, for she thought that the sparks were due to the fact that the tall grass had caught fire, and this would mean that their house would burn down.<sup>2</sup> The house, set in the wide wilderness of Kansas, was a small beginning to this Russian family, who had left their rich belongings in South Russia, and had escaped to this pioneer country of America, to get away from the compulsory military training that was being forced upon them.<sup>3</sup> So, in the heart of this courageous woman was the burning desire to start anew in this country of opportunity.

The first years on the farm were very hard, because there was only one son at that time, all the girls and their mother went daily out to the fields to work. Even when a new baby entered the family, the work was heavy and had to be done, so Grandmother would take the baby basket out to the fields and work as hard as ever. Her main work was to stack the hay. It was heavy work, and probably because of it her health was weak after she became middle aged.<sup>4</sup>

Grandmother loved to have everything as clean as possible, but when she worked all day in the field, it was impossible to keep up with the washing; so many times, to her chagrin, the family had to wear the same clothes day in and day out.<sup>1</sup>

Grandmother had a deep religious spirit in her which gave her a love to go to church. But, while Grandfather was living, she had to face a great trial. Grandfather had had some trouble with the Hebron Church, and so had refused to go there. When his wife and daughter suggested that they go to the Bethel Church, he argued that it was too far away. Grandfather had a severe temper, and his word was law in the house; yet the girls were determined to go to church. When Grandfather refused to let them use the buggy, they would often get up early on Sunday morning and walk to the Hoffnugsfeld Church. Grandmother encouraged the girls to go, but she herself felt she had to obey the will of her husband. Later she became more daring, and she would often slip out of the house and take the girls to church in the buggy. After Grandfather died there was seldom a Sunday when Grandmother did not rise early, get the youngest ready, and drive her children to church. At this time she became a faithful member of the Bethel Church, and even though the church was a distance of twelve to fourteen miles from the homestead, which was a great distance in those days, Grandmother always saw that the family got to church in plenty of time.<sup>2</sup>

Grandmother had a quiet but loving personality. She was a hard and fast worker. She excelled in cooking and sewing and saw that all of her daughters became excellent homemakers. She was an early riser and one time frightened her daughter because she overslept. Her second youngest daughter, Justina, and her husband, Mr. H. E. Toews, lived in a house very near to her house. One night Justina dreamt that Grandmother had died; in fact she was so sure that it might be true that she walked over to the other house and looked into the bedroom window. The moonlight shone through the window onto the bed on which Grandmother was peacefully sleeping. Forgetting her fears, Justina went back to bed. The next morning she went over to Grandmother's again, and was surprised to see that she was still lying quietly in bed. Frightened that she might be dead, Justina ran to call her husband. When they came into the bedroom, Grandmother wanted to know what was the matter. Justina cried out, "Why Mother! We thought you were dead!" Grandmother calmly answered, "Why no, you must be mistaken."<sup>3</sup>

Grandmother had a hard time forgetting a certain incident that entered into her life. At one time a real estate agent from Moundridge dropped in, supposedly on a friendly visit, and persuaded Grandmother and her son-in-law, Mr. A. W. Wiens, to buy half a section of land in western Kansas. The agent made up a long story about how excellent the land was, and that in a year it could be sold for twice the amount that he was charging. Since Grandmother had money at that time, she thought it would be a good idea to invest it in some land. But, as the years went on, the crops continued to fail on this land, and it was impossible to sell. Grandmother took this experience very hard and often wondered why she had ever bought the land. Her children tried to convince her that it was all over with, and since nothing could be done about it now, there was no sense worrying. So, Grandmother got over it in a way.<sup>1</sup> It is surprising that she did not become cynical through this bitter experience. She never held a grudge against anyone. She could not stand to have an enemy. She always had a kind word for everyone.

There was a strong love between Grandmother and her family. She won the admiration of her sons-in-law immediately. When these young men joined the family, it often astonished them to find what a good-natured person Grandmother was. She was never seen losing her temper.<sup>2</sup> There was always a friendly way about her that drew people to her.

The happiest events in Grandmother's life were the family gatherings. When she butchered hogs, all the children and grandchildren came to help. They were all so eager to come that they would often arrive before daylight, and then would have to wait with the work until dawn. After the hogs were butchered, all the children got their share, and Grandmother always saw that not a scrap was left over.<sup>3</sup>

Grandmother's birthday was the twenty-sixth of December, which was also celebrated as Second Holiday. It was a day looked forward to by all the family, for on that day, they all gathered at Grandmother's to have their fill of swieback, plumamoose, and cookies. All the young children said their pieces, and then there were presents for all. After everyone had had as much food and fun as possible, Grandmother was sure to give them lots of goodies to take home. It was a day which was longed for throughout the year. It was the happiest time of the season.

Grandmother loved to go visiting. When the grandchildren saw her phaton (buggy), drawn by her white horse, Molly, coming down the road, they would run joyously out to meet her. They always knew that she would have a piece of candy or sugar cube in her skirt pocket, and when she lifted up her apron and put her hand into her pocket, all the children crowded around her and waited for their turn to get something.<sup>4</sup>

Sickness and affliction entered her life. She had serious trouble with one of her legs and was unable to go about as much as she would have liked. Then she developed asthma, which kept her awake many a night. On such nights she would love to have the moon shining, for then she could lie in her bed and forget her sleeplessness as she watched the silvery moon glide across the dark sky.<sup>1</sup>

As she grew older she always told her children to come to see her, since she could not go out much herself. After she moved to the town of Inman, it was easier for the children to come more often. She loved nothing better than to have her family about her. She had a way of always holding her hands locked in each other in front, and holding her head slightly to one side. Sometimes she would cough so violently that her children were afraid that she might tear herself apart.<sup>2</sup>

Grandmother believed in prayer and continually prayed for her children. But, there was one prayer that was constantly on her heart; that was that one of her children would become a missionary. It was not until 1914 that she found that her prayer had been answered. Her youngest son, John (my father), was at that time a junior at Bethel Academy. When he came home for Christmas that year, he noticed that his mother was very pale. During the night after Christmas, John woke up to hear his mother having a great deal of trouble because of asthma. Early in the morning John called one of his sisters and also the doctor. As soon as the latter arrived he pronounced the trouble pneumonia. Grandmother had had several attacks of pneumonia before, so that the doctor was doubtful concerning her condition. The night of her birthday, the twenty-sixth of December, John volunteered to stay with his mother. He realized that she was sinking fast and if he had anything to say he had better say it soon. Grandmother was very quiet, yet seemed to be suffering intensely. John asked her if she would be able to listen for a while, and she said she thought she could. So, John told her, as briefly as possible, his resolution to be a foreign missionary. Grandmother's face filled with light, and she braced herself up for the last time and said, "This fulfills my joys and longings."<sup>3</sup>

Grandmother saw that John had stayed up most of the night and told him to go lie down. John reluctantly went, saying, "I am glad that I could talk to yet."<sup>4</sup>

That was the last chance that John had to talk with his mother. By the next morning she was too sick to talk. She passed away on the thirty-first of December, 1914.

The memory of this sweet inspiring woman lives on in many lives. In all her simplicity she had sown seeds which will bear fruit for eternity. We are thankful to God for such a faithful and loving Grandmother.

Mrs. Stackley!
Dear Mr. ~~Thiessen~~!

I am sure you will be surprised to receive a letter from an unknown person in Germany.

I am born 1919 in West Prussia. Years ago I started to be engaged in the family inquiry of the mennonite Thiessen family. My great-great-great-father was Martin Thiessen born 26.7.1737 in Westprussia. I know more than 2200 of his descendants.

Searching for offsprings of the brothers and sisters:

Peter Thiessen	born 26.5.1832	in Russia
Katharina Thiessen	20.2.1836	" "
Abraham Thiessen	1.11.1838	" "
Elisabeth Thiessen	12.4.1846	" "
Margaretha Thiessen	11.2.1849	" "
Johann Thiessen	25.6.1852	" "
Sara Thiessen	25.4.1855	" "

who emigrate between 1872 and 1876 from Russia to USA.

I write to several archives in your country and they gave me your address. My questions are: Do you belong accidental to one of these families I am searching for?

If not, could you perhaps give me the address of one descendant of ~~the~~ these families?

If you are not a descendant of these families but interested in family inquiry I would like to hear from you. Perhaps I would help ~~you~~ you to find ancestors in West Prussia. I have many microfilms of mennonite parochial registers from West Prussia.

Sincerely yours,

Hermann Thiessen
