These two annual periodicals were the official directories or handbooks for the General Conference Mennonites beginning in 1895, predecessors to the current Handbook of Information.

*Entries consist of the person's name, year of birth and death where known, and the year and page of the issue in which the notice appeared. Women are listed under their maiden names and under all married names. Entries marked with an * are for maiden names. In some cases, husbands' names are listed in parentheses for clarification.*
